Sub: Minor Research Project

As per the telephonic conversation, I had with you, regarding research projects in the area of capital markets and demonetisation, the research proposal on these topics will be submitted to you by 20th of June 2019. Kindly go through the same as it will be useful to assess the investor perception and impact of post demonetisation on securities market.

To promote research culture among the teaching fraternity, the college has taken initiative for pursuing research projects in the area of current trends that are prevalent in the market which includes finance for collecting data, survey and application of statistical tools. So, grants for research projects are required for minor research projects.

Hoping you will do the needful at the earliest.

Respected Madam,

Sub: Sponsorship for Minor Research Projects

I have gone through the research proposals submitted by the institution on the topics; 'A comprehensive study on active and passive portfolio management' and 'Effect of demonetisation on small scale industries', the first research proposal is very much related to our business activities and also highlighted on choosing the right way to manage the wealth of the individual in the form of active and passive portfolio. The other one is impact of demonetisation on ancillary units and how it has affected their business activity with reference to financial and marketing aspects.

To encourage and promoting research culture in the educational institution, stock tale has approved research proposals and is willing to sponsor the research activities. The amount specified in the budget, letter dated 29/6/2019, Rs. 30,000/- (Thirty thousand only) will be granted after submitting the research projects.

To: Sharada Prasanna <sharadaprasanna@gmail.com>

Dear Madam,

I have discussed the proposed budget with Dr. Raman Gujral and he has suggested some updates.

1. To start with, we can go ahead with one research, ie. Socio-Economic Empowerment of Women with Reference to Micro Skillpreneurship Development Programme(MSDP)

2. For statistical service, we recommend R, which is a free software.

3. For subscription of books and journals, you can get a membership in communities like The British Council(Which would cost approximately Rs.3000) which would give access to many sites hosting books, journals and papers.

Kindly prepare a budget as per the above updates and send us an original copy to go ahead with the proposal.

Thanks & Regards,

Sandhra Jose,

Project Coordinator,
