Overall Band Score

	Overall	6.0	Competent User

The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained
Listening	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.
Reading	5.0	Test takers at Band 5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.

Advice to improve your score

Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.

Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.

Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.
