ASHRAYA SEVA TRUST

(WE SERVE BECAUSE WE CARE)

INTRODUCTION:

There have been many transformations in recent years that have had an impact on society in different sectors –Social, financial and personal. Lifestyles have changed, some for the better and a few with negative consequences. The population in general has been reaping the benefits, and mostly those from the younger generation have been able to realise many of their dreams and develop their careers in a better fashion than was possible earlier.

However, the senior citizen, referred to as elders, face certain problems as a consequence of the Social transformation, this is reflected in the transition from the traditional ways of life to modern patterns, which require many compromises and adjustments. One of these involves old age homes (OAHs). What is the genesis of old age homes and how have they changed life patterns for the elders? These questions need to be examined dispassionately

To understand the concept of old age home(OAHs), one has to go back in time five to six decades to see the life pattern of elders and chronologically trace the developments that led to slow yet steady changes that were necessitated by circumstances, There was the much-acclaimed joint family or extended family system wherein elders lived with not only their Children but also with their brothers, sisters or uncles and aunts in nearby houses, mostly in villages or in a small town. They all used to live close by, helping each other for many purposes, be it happy small events or big occasions like marriages. Everyone was close at hand for any emergencies such as health problems or deaths. Thus, the social fabric was well-woven and due respect was given to elders. This system enabled elders to lead reasonably happy lives with hardly any tension, as they had the confidence that someone would take care of them when needed, Whenever there was some health issues for an elder, the whole family would run around to attend to all needs, rendering medical to personal assistance, With perfect understanding on caring and sharing the duties, the elders did not feel let down or lonely.

Another major blessing in those days was the system of a ‘family doctor’: each family would have a friendly physician who would be ready to visit houses whenever someone was unwell. Besides medical attention, the doctor would instill confidence with pleasant words of encouragement, which would in itself often cure the illness. Thus, a close, well-kint family system served wonderfully the elders in particular and all others in times of need. In those days when most of the deliveries used to be at home, the doctor was easily available to attend to the woman members of the family.

The scenario changed slowly and steadily with the decline or disappearance of the joint family system, which was replaced by the nuclear family system. A 50-year analysis would reveal the great transformation. Many reasons maybe attributed for this change, which reflected not only the whole family set-up but also the life pattern of elders, who became dependent, partially or totally.

THE PATTERNS OF OLD AGE HOME

There are 5 patterns that elders today face generally, which are situation-dependent. In one, elders stay with children in the same house in the city, which ensures financial and health security. In another situation, they live alone in a separate house with children living elsewhere in the city, considering proximity to places of work or the educational needs of children. Here the family members visit the parents once week or when any health problems necessitate their presence. In a third scenario, elders stay alone in a town or city for employment: the children visit once in a few months for occasions or emergencies of health.

In a fourth pattern, elders live all alone in the city, the children having migrated to foreign countries or for higher education, jobs and so on. The children will be living settled and comfortable lives with family and children and visit the elders once in two or three years: this situation causes health-related and emotional insecurities, though the elders will be financially sound thanks to foreign remittances. In another pattern, elders live with spouse or alone, with financial, health and emotional insecurities.

Elders, both men and women, who remained single without marriage invariably landed in old age homes (OAHs). Each of these situations has its own merits and demerits. While many elders accept the change, others are unable to adjust, and start grumbling and sulking, which is understandable considering the age and exposure to circumstances.

Among the estimated population of over 10 core in the country in the age range of 65 and above, at least 10 to 20% will be above 75 who face health problems to different degrees. Due to personal compulsions many have emigrated and stay with children mostly in the United States. But some are unable to travel owing to health reasons such as immobility or other personal reasons, and go in search of old age homes (OAHs)

LIFE IN OLD AGE HOMES

Just as in the case of systems in other sectors, old age homes have also become highly commercialised. There has been a virtual mushrooming of old age homes in recent years. It has become a lucrative business, thanks to the NRIs who are prepared to shell out huge deposits to admit their helpless parents in old age homes. The cost of providing accommodation, food comforts and medical help is high.

A cursory glance at the number of old age homes in the country reveal that there are different categories of that there are different categories of them to cater to the needs of elders, depending on the payment capacity. While some old age homes seem to provide good facilities, others lack such comforts. It is not that all elders are taken care of well by the managements. Some of them impose restrictions. The food served is report spoke of how a poor elder in an old age homes was beaten for asking for more food. So also their bedrooms and toilets are often poorly maintained. Some of the managements do not utilise payments made to them by children in India and abroad, leaving the helpless parents in lurch. Such abuse and misuse of old age homes come to the limelight often, but seldom is action taken to rectify the situation.

There are some well managed old age homes too, though they are very costly Thus, most of the elders in old age homes are not very happy, confined as they are to isolation. Unfortunately, children are unable to come on time when parents fall sick or even die in old age homes. But there are some elders who feel comfortable in old age homes for the freedom and friendly atmosphere with other elders who keep them company, enjoying the time with Tv, games, and gossip. They show some detachment from family members and fell more secure in old age homes and avoid a restricted life with their children.

The life of elders in the present age is full of problems, both for themselves and for the children. The fortunate few depart with satisfaction and peace of mind, while others leave with an unhappy state of mind. Meanwhile, the old age homes have come to be a part of our social system.

HISTROY

“Ashraya” is a Non – Governmental organization established in the year 2005, by Mrs. Rani K.T, to provide shelter and care to aged women who were either abandoned or could not be cared for by their kith and kin for various reasons, At present we care for 55women, all between the ages of 75-100 years

HOW ASHRAYA SEVA TRUST ALL STARTED

Mrs. Rani was unfortunate to lose her mother at very young age (6years old). Since then, she deeply felt how important it was for a mother to be present. When she came to Bangalore along with her family several years later, little did she know her loss would result in positive impact on so many lives! She found elderly women being treated badly in and around her neighbourhood. She found old people lying on roads in utterly horrid conditions. She knew she didn’t want to sit and watch things like this happen. She began from taking in a couple of old women in her own home and taking utmost care of them.

This could probably be recognised as the genesis of “Ashraya seva trust” It happened when few of her family members suggested that she set up a trust in order to make it for herself to take care of many more needy women in the future. And in 2005 Ashraya seva trust officially spread it arms to embrace those women who were treated like outcasts.

ABOUT ASHRAYA SEVA TRUST

People are so held up in the false sense of hectic schedules that they have got no time to cater to the elderly who are at their homes. The woman who fed food to her child is now deserted mercilessly on roads! The woman who woke up all night to take care of her child has now got nowhere to sleep! For all the sacrifices a woman does, she will only get shut doors later! Understanding and feeling the pain of our elderly mothers, Ashraya was established in order to offer from all walks of life! Our ashram is registered with the government of Karnataka (RegNo 16/05-06) and is situated in Rajajinagar. Bangalore we have severed over 800 women till dates, and have sometimes stayed with woman until they reached their grave.

RESPECT AND QUALITY IN ASHRYA SEVA TRUST

Mrs. Rani has made it a point that all the ladies are treated with respect from the staff and are carefully looked after, meeting the benchmark of great quality, Mrs.Rani also funds the primary studies of few kids in her village who are talented but can't afford to study.

FOUNDER: Mrs. Rani K.T

PARTNERS OF ASHRAYA SEVA TRUST

Ashraya seva trust has teamed up with various organization ranging from start-ups who engages actively with our disregarded women of the society to huge corporate companies that help us in making noticeable difference to the elderly women through financial and logistical offerings

MISSION OF ASHRAYA SEVA TRUST

CONCLUSION

The experience of working in an Non-Government organisation was really an eye opening experience for me. Initially I was very excited for the challenges and to meet new people and this confidence helped me to interact well with all the people in the NGO and I could easily become one among them.

It is evident that due to socio-economic changes in the wake up urbanization and increase in the proportion of the aged in the population, the problems of the aged have become formidable. The ultimate responsibility for supporting the aged is shifting from the family to secondary institution. In these circumstances, it is essential for setting up a large number of Old Age Homes with adequate amenities for those who have no close relatives to look after them. But the coming generation realize that Old Age Homes are not a 'dumping place' for the aged

Finally, the aged people should be considered as a valuable cultural resource and role models for the younger generation. Therefore, governmental and non-government organizations should come forward to motivate and create awareness among the youth to take care of the aged in the family. The Old Age Homes are no substitute for families.

The time spent in serving the people of the NGO really very usefully to me because it thought me a lot of good qualities that has brought a very positive impact in my personality.

I got a clear knowledge about the establishment of any NGO like the eligibility criteria, Fund required which depends on at what scale you want to start it , the legal formalities need to start it, And the most important thing I learnt was that no matter how much ever money you have, no matter how much power you have, all it requires is a pure intention and unconditional interest towards the society is the only way to start any type of NGO.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank you my Institution and the NGO for giving me such a wonderful opportunity to complete my internship and serve my potential to the society.

And I would also promise to continue to serve for the development of the society and help the needed at my extended potential.

Thank you.

ABOUT E-CURE CHARITABLE TRUST

E-Cure, founded in 2011, is an independent not-for-profit organisation that aims to protect and conserve the environment. Our team is charmed by green initiatives. We vigorously pursue ideas that contribute to a positive environmental change and enforce measures that conserve different elements of nature. It takes a good number of motivated individuals to drive change in the current processes. At E-Cure, we encourage individuals, corporations, students or anyone concerned about the environment to spearhead change at the local level by creating awareness around environmental problems like global warming, climate change, deforestation, and polluted water bodies; and taking appropriate measures towards sustainable development.
